

FUNCTIONAL CERAMICS 2008

EXHIBITION & WORKSHOP

THE WAYNE CENTER FOR THE ARTS

DICK

LEHMAN

GOSHEN, IN

Dick Lehman is a person that is both dedicated to creating beautiful pieces of work, and has also created a handsome gallery. He has, over the years, written numerous articles for publication, designed a gallery and a beautiful studio in which he and his staff work. Dick is a very strong person that goes out of his way to guide and encourage potters from across our country. Over the years Dick has not only dedicated himself to creating wonderful works, but also has been an active and supportive member of the extended Clay community. Help me greet Dick as he returns to the Wooster Workshop.

KIRSTEN

KIEFFER

BALDWINVILLE, MA

Kirsten Kieffer is a young woman that I have watched for a few months and was delighted to have her accept my invitation to come to the Wooster for the Functional Ceramics Workshop. I have enjoyed chatting with her and learning more about her and her goals working in the field of Clay. I have seen her work and have enjoyed it and I am delighted to bring Kirsten to Wooster.

KARL

BORGESON

WHITEWATER, WI

Karl has exhibited his work in the Wooster show a year or so ago. I could hardly wait to unpack his work and to handle these handsome pieces. His stoneware pieces just beckoned me to run off with at least one of his works. But, I was comforted to just to be able to hold these works and to enjoy them. Please Welcome Karl to The Wooster Workshop and then make room for me to just sit and watch.
